

This year the World Bank forecasts Latin America's economy will grow 4.5 percent, a promising step toward recovery after lagging in commodity demand. The World Bank Group will also provide $17.9 billion in aid this year for growth recovery in ... Mexico accounts for more than half of the region's trade with the U.S., while its trade with the rest of Latin America is comprised of 8.3 percent, according to a Foreign Affairs Committee report released by the Congressional ...
pontealdia.com - <http://www.pontealdia.com/>

Leer más: Alertas de Google - Bank of America México